

Francis Faux

I, Dylan

I, Dylan

For Emma Davies

Francis Faux

Clarinet in B \flat

mf p f pp pp accel. tr

Cl. mf p Giocoso

Cl. m

Cl. mf p 3 3 3 3 5

Cl. f 3

21 Cl. mp f

24 Cl. sfp mp sfp

26 Cl. rit. tr tr tr quasi cadenza mf sfp ff mp espress. con melancolia

30 Meno mosso rit. mp p mp p mp pp

33 Presto mp cresc.

35 Cl. ff

PROGRAMME NOTES

Dylan, son of Gwydion and Arianrhod. In the moment of his baptism, he plunged into the ocean below and transformed into a resplendent sea creature, moving through the water with such grace and ease.

When his uncle, Gofannon, struck him down not knowing who he was, the waves are said to have sighed deeply at his passing, though his playful spirit can still be glimpsed on the Pwynt Maen Tylen to this day.